

Five Prizes Are To Be Awarded At Next Drawing

Chamber of Commerce Manager Roland Black said Monday that Saturday's drawing would be a two-in-one with five cash prizes instead of the usual three. There will be two first prizes of $100 each and two second prizes of $25 each. The final prize is the hold-over which will be $75.

Final prize is usually $25, but when the monthly drawings were changed to weekly events it was decided to draw only one time for this prize. If no one claimed the $25 in that one draw it would be held over and added with the amount for the next week. In the last drawing which was held over the amount was $25.

If the drawing had been held last Saturday, the final prize would have been $50, but due to Memorial Day holiday no drawing was conducted. Because of this an additional $25 was added, making the final prize worth $75.

All tickets that have been collected since May 23 are good for the drawing to be conducted Saturday.

Water Engineers Test New Plant

City Secretary Dudley Bayne said Tuesday that the city's sewage had been flowing into the new disposal plant for two weeks. Dudley said these past two weeks had been a testing period. This testing period will continue until the City Water Engineers make all the minor adjustments.

There are many items about the new disposal plant that requires adjustment before final approval of the new plant. Bayne said the water engineers would place their final approval on the plant as soon as these adjustments were made and the plant was in satisfactory operation.

Local Man Is Helping Spray Canadian Forests

D. R. Weaver left Canyon in May for New Brunswick, Canada, to deliver airplanes for the purpose of spraying forests to destroy budworms. Weaver went by way of Alice. There he joined five other pilots who were going with him to deliver six 450 horsepower Stearman aircraft to be used for spraying purposes.

Mr. Weaver was chosen as one of the pilots to participate in the free conservation project because of his experience as a spray pilot with the 450 h.p. Stearman aircraft and the great number of flying hours he has to his credit in these planes.

Weaver has written home about the wild beauty of the terrain about 12 feet above sea level where he is in Canada. He also wrote that there were plenty of salmon in the river. He also mentioned that he could fish from his cabin window.

The spray pilot plans to be home between the 15th and 30th of this month to take care of the spraying needs of farmers in this vicinity.

Post Office To Hike Box Rent On July First

The Post Office Department has issued an order for an increase in post office box rents, effective July 1st.

This is the first time that there has been a general increase in box rents since 1907, according to Guy Harp, postmaster of Canyon.

However, this increase in box rents is not to be confused with the increase in box rents which became effective in Canyon last July, when the local office became first class. This later increase is general throughout the postal system, and has been in effect for several years.

Effective with the next payment of post office rents, the boxes will be increased as follows:

	New Rate	Present Rate
Small Boxes	$1.10	.75
No. 2 Boxes	$1.50	$1.00
No. 3 Boxes	$2.25	$1.50
No. 4 Boxes	$3.00	$2.00

The increase in box rents at the West Texas State office will become effective on that date. The change in name only from Station 1 to West Texas State Station became effective on May 1st.

Rex Reeves is directing the Campus Summer School in the Elementary School building on the West Texas State College campus this summer. The Campus Summer School includes both elementary and secondary school students.

Classes officially began this morning at 7:30 o'clock. The elementary school classes run from 9 to 12 a. m. These grades run from the first through the eighth. There is also swimming instruction three days a week, Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Craftsman and hobby work are available to both high school and elementary students in the afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock. In the afternoons after 4 o'clock softball will be played.

The elementary faculty is made up of Miss Mae Simmons, who is teaching the first and second grades; Mrs. Earline Moreman, the third and fourth grades.

In the upper division of the elementary school, D. V. Biggers, principal of Skellytown school, is teaching math and science. William C. Stokes of Amarillo is teaching language, arts and social studies, and Mr. Fitzgerald of Amarillo is handling art in the upper elementary grades.

Miss Mildred Golliday, White Deer, is teaching high school English, and Walter Burgess of Dumas is teaching high school math. Mrs. Helen Lette of Lefors is teaching high school typing and W. L. Vaughn of Canyon is teaching high school social studies.

Red Cross SOS Is Plea For Blood Donors

An S-O-S for blood donors is being sent out by local workers for Tuesday, June 8, when the Bloodmobile will be here. A total of 200 donors is needed and Monday afternoon only 40 persons had signed pledge cards.

The Bloodmobile unit will be stationed in front of the American Legion Hall Tuesday. Blood donations will be taken from 10:00 a. m. until 4 p. m.

The need for blood is probably greater right now than it has ever been in our recent past. The renewal of activity in Korea naturally placed an additional drain on the reserve of the blood plasma supply. Here in the States there have been flood and tornado victims to care for. In addition to these, there have also been the blood product gamma globulin which is used to combat polio.

What the local Red Cross workers are asking now is that everyone who possibly can, roll up their sleeves and give a pint of blood. Pledge cards can be signed at the Chamber of Commerce office, at the First National Bank, or at the local Red Cross headquarters on the ground floor of the court house.

Most of the summer camp work will be devoted to field work, instruction in and firing of weapons, and training in command and tactics. The men will return to a regular Army school for further training in a year, following graduation from West Texas State.

County Agent Gives Report on Fall Seed Wheat

Seed wheat for fall planting will be scarce on some of the Randall County farms this fall. A recent survey made by the A&M College Extension Service has found some good seed in the Vernon-Seymour area where wheat harvest is now underway.

The wheat crop in Baylor, Foard, Wilbarger, and Hardeman Counties is now being combined. The crop is fair to good in those counties. Good wheat seed can be purchased at the combine in these counties.

In Baylor County there is ample Triumph and some Westar seed available.

In Foard County there is lots of Wichita, some Westar and some Comanche with very little Triumph available.

In Wilbarger County there is quite a bit of Triumph, and also some Westar, Wichita, and some Comanche.

In Hardeman County, the eastern side beginning about Chillicothe, there is Comanche, Westar, Triumph, and some Wichita.

The price on the seed taken from the field at the combine will run from $2.06 to $2.25 per bushel. Some of this wheat will be stored in this area for seed, but the price this fall in the granary will probably be $2.75.

If there are seed dealers, farmers, grain or elevator men that desire to go down for the seed by truck, County Agricultural Agents in these counties will be glad to help locate the seed.

The Randall County Agricultural Agent, John Brazill, has a full copy of the report and will be glad to help locate the seed.

Picks Up Glass To Save Casings

C. P. Shelnutt does not own a car, and does not drive one. Yet, he spends much time in picking up glass off of the pavement in Canyon which might destroy casings.

"Don't break glass bottles on the pavement," says Mr. Shelnutt. He notes that a large number of glass bottles have been broken on the streets of Canyon, and these bottles are a hazard to all drivers of cars.

Coke bottles and milk bottles are the favorite targets of youths as they drive or walk along the pavement.

It is a dangerous practice.

District Court Finds Two Guilty

Two convictions, one for burglary and one for driving while intoxicated, were handed down Friday in Judge Henry S. Bishop's 47th District Court here.

Charley Harrell was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for the March 31st burglary of the Ed Houck home. Some articles taken from the home were listed as an electric clock and a radio.

In the second conviction, Judge Bishop sentenced J. M. Bolbert to 45 days in jail and a fine totaling $276.15 for driving while intoxicated. The reason for this particular DWI case was tried in District Court instead of County Court was because it was a second offense.

Johnnye Weeks Wins $10 in C-C Slogan Contest

Miss Johnnye Weeks is the winner of the first prize of $10 in the Canyon Chamber of Commerce slogan contest. The slogan which won her the first prize is "Panhandle Wonderland."

There was a second prize of $5 which went to Beckey Byrd. The contest ended at midnight May 20 but it required a week for judges to go through the entries and select the winner. The two winners were finally selected Friday, May 28.

Mrs. Charles Nester and children left Monday for a visit in the home of her mother in San Antonio.

Governor Shivers Will Run Into Bitter Opposition for Re-election

Governor Shivers intimates that he may run again for the office of Governor.

This would be something new for the people of Texas. Those who have made the race for a third term were seeking personal glory, and satisfaction in the job. This time we shall see a bitter battle waged between Shivers and the so-called Loyal Democrats. It will be recalled that the Governor led the Eisenhower forces in Texas last year, and the loyalist group will never forgive him for breaking away from Truman. This group held a meeting in Austin last week, organized for a bitter fight against Shivers, and declared their loyalty to the Democratic party — the Truman branch of the party.

The action of the loyalists no doubt sets up a definite challenge to Shivers to make the race. He would glory in nothing better than to stage a fight against this group, and whip them upon their own issues.

However, if the Governor makes the race, he will have strong opposition from a highly organized group which is out after his political scalp. This group will include the teachers of Texas who are firmly convinced that the Governor threw them a curve in their demand for a raise in salary. During the campaign last year, both Shivers and candidates for the legislature were profuse in making love to the teachers, promising them an increase in salary.

Instead of the increase, the Governor took the position of "no new taxes." This knocked in the head all possibilities of this promised increase in salary.

Of course a great deal will depend upon whom the so-called loyalists line up to oppose Shivers in the campaign of next year. The Governor will come out of his corner fighting, as he has never been called upon to fight before.

Whoever takes him on in the campaign will know that he has been in a first class knockdown and drag-out affair when the votes are counted.

There promises to be a big time under the big dome next year. More power to the politically minded boys. There will be plenty of action when the primary election is held.

More Confusion Is Added by The Radio Commentators

If and when all of the commentators get their pieces spoken on foreign affairs, our relations will be in a pretty bad mess.

The only wise thought to come out of Washington was the saying of an old politician, who quoted the phrase, "Now is the time for every person to keep his mouth shut."

There has been too much talk now of public affairs. "The President and Senator Taft have broken relations, and are about to come to blows;" "The Senator from Ohio has wrecked all chances for peace in Korea;" "The President is wrecking the air corps;" etc., etc., etc., etc.

This chatter comes over the airwaves, and reporters grab the mike and start to talking.

We were impressed by a statement coming from a great newspaper in Denver. This paper has refused to print all of this chatter until it is passed upon by serious minded editors who have thoroughly digested the statements, and checked upon the facts.

For instance, it was discovered early in the year that those who chatter away over the mike were telling only part of the story; that they were seeking to become sensational, rather than stay with the facts.

It is fortunate indeed that one daily newspaper is trying to keep the facts straight.

No doubt the commies in Moscow are delighted with all of the confusion which exists in our government at the present time.

Independence May Be Good Thing, But Not in Politics

It is perfectly okay with us for Senator Wayne Morse to be the independent cuss that he is. But we are glad that he is from Oregon and not from Texas.

The fellow who is so independent of thought that he is neither a Republican nor a Democrat may make a good impression upon the nation as a whole, but he is certainly in a bad way when it comes to representing the will of the people of his state.

Morse cannot take advantage of party affiliation in order to pass any sort of a measure. Possibly he is not interested in such legislation, but he is surely against certain measures which are or have been proposed in Congress.

Under the party system under which we operate in Congress, there must be leaders as well as followers. Party organization must prevail. There can be little or no deviation from the party. However, let it be remembered that Democrats in Congress are following the leadership of President Eisenhower much more closely than are the Republicans. Independent Morse has been seated with the Republicans, but he certainly acts like a muleish Democrat more than a party follower.

People with excess weight can get rid of it by forgetting excess eating, but the trouble is they forget the weight and remember to eat.

The trouble with so many metropolitan newspapers is that they are filled with junk—usually in the form of interpretation of what is going on.

The individual with a reputation to maintain is very often put on the spot without in any way desiring to be what the world calls a "big shot."

The people who live next door to you are just as good as those you will meet on your summer vacation; why not cultivate them a bit?

The happiest life is to be found around a contented fire, where the family lives at peace with itself, its fellowmen and with God.

In the course of time we believe every advertiser in Randall County will understand why The Canyon News is the real result-getter.

The perpetual solution to most of the problems of the female: hard work, thrift, reliability, s.a. and a come-hither look.

The man who knows it all is a dangerous to society as the man who knows nothing.

Legislators Take a Look at Past Session, and Are Pleased

Most members of the legislature who expressed an opinion as to their services during the session which closed last Wednesday, maintained that the training was well worthwhile and was a liberal education in government.

We have always held to the theory that every citizen should run for public office at least once in his life. It is a liberal education to see how the wheels of politics go around.

If elected, each will have a most profound insight into their government—something that he could not acquire in any other way. Those who are elected have the firm conviction that they carry the deep and lasting respect of most folks of their community; and those who are defeated are certain that practically every person voted against them.

We recall that when Randall county had about 900 votes, a certain man was a candidate for a county office. He made the public statement a few days before the election that he was sure of election. Yet when the votes were counted he received just 10 votes and his opponent received the balance of the votes. No one could tell him that people had just changed their minds.

Back to the lawmakers: We are glad that most of the members from West Texas feel that their experience has been so profitable. We shall never forget our experience of 25 years ago in the House, and we shall never feel less than deeply appreciative of the opportunity for service. It was a costly education 25 years ago, and would be doubly so in times like the present, when living costs have mounted.

We note that most members expressed disappointment in the amount of legislation passed. Yet we recall that a seasoned lawmaker who served with us expressed this opinion: "The best legislature passes the fewest number of bills."

The youthful legislator usually goes to Austin with a sense of very deep self-importance and feels that he must introduce and pass a vast number of bills to make his importance known to the people. That is indeed a mistake. Killing a lot of bills is more important than the passage of a few measures, as meritorious as the bills may seem at the time of consideration.

We note that one State Senator dubs this legislature as a do-nothing one. We have an idea that the State will go on in spite of this declaration.

When Will It Rain? Well, It Has Always Rained on Plains

When will we receive that big spring rain?

So far, at this writing this Wednesday afternoon, this rain has not fallen. There is a little cloud gathering in the Southwest which might develop into something big; and again this might be another windshield messer upper.

Dr. Loyd of Vega who has been weather observer for more than 50 years states that we are now in another dry cycle. It has always rained; regardless of how dry it gets. This may be a record dry year, and again it could rain before this issue of The Canyon News reaches you.

Don't sell the Panhandle short—regardless of present conditions or outlook.

We are told that several families say that they will have to move on unless there is relief soon. Where will they go? Just move! That seems to be the pattern of dry years—move; move; move.

Our advice after 43 years of observation is to stick it out in the Panhandle. There is an old, old song telling that the "worst is yet to come." Perhaps true; but keep in mind the fact that the Panhandle is just as good a spot as any place on earth, year in and year out.

Stick! Stuck as long as you can! And then stick some more.

What Confusion Has Resulted From Raise of Auto Workers

We are completely confused!

What is the meaning of this increase in wage scale which all of the big motor companies have given their employees?

Are these companies expecting a great increase in business, or has CIO got them in such a shape that there was nothing else for them to do?

Are cars not now priced too high, or do the companies feel that the public will buy regardless of the price?

The increase in wage scale will no doubt increase the selling price of cars.

Yes, sir—we are completely confused! Along with a hundred million other folks we have been pondering the situation.

Let There Be an Abundance Of Light Is Cry of The News

The News office is now all lighted up like a Christmas tree.

New lights have been installed to replace the old type which were placed in the front office when the building was erected in 1920. Fluorescent lights were installed in vital spots in the mechanical department several years ago, and now the idea of more light has migrated to the front office and store.

Light is a wonderful thing.

We are all singing, "Let there be more light."

We just wonder what would happen to this country if every citizen read one sensible book a week, for just one year.

One of the main faults of "good people" is their tendency to tell everybody else what is wrong with them.

The man who has lived a useful life won't be satisfied with singing and harp-twangling later on.

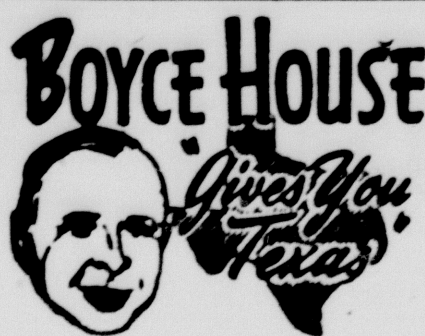

Some people give so much time to attending to the business of others that they forget their own.

There are any number of people who never care how or whether other people live.

The world has many people who find it easy to denounce almost everything.

The hardest job in the world involves the reformation of human beings.

The world is filled with two classes of people—amateur and professional.

Probably the oddest reason ever known for building a railroad was the one that was behind the building of the Diamond Jo Railroad in Arkansas. In 1874, a man living in Chicago started to the "fount of healing waters" in Hot Springs, Arkansas, with the hope of finding a cure for rheumatism. He was Diamond Jo Reynolds.

The Cairo and Fulton Railroad then being constructed through Arkansas carried travelers bound for Hot Springs to Malvern Junction; the remainder of the 25-mile journey was by horse-drawn stage coach and patients and passengers were bounced, jerked and jolted painfully over the mountain road.

On Reynolds' trip, the driver boasted that he knew every rock in the 25 miles, to which Reynolds retorted: "I dare say; and it is quite evident you are careful not to miss any of them." Before reaching the end of the trip, the stage broke down and passengers suffered from exposure, hardship and delay. When they protested, the driver replied: "These here jolts will be of more benefit to you than the baths you're going to take; just wait and see." He further suggested that those who did not like the service might try getting in some other way.

That gave Diamond Jo something to think about. After his stay at the springs, he boarded the stage for Malvern. When he arrived at the hotel in the village, he looked back over the rocky road. "I've got to come back here some day," he told the hotel keeper. "But I promise you, I'll never ride that way again." "What will you do?" queried his host, "come in on a mule." "No," snapped Diamond Jo, "I'll build a railroad." And he did—the Diamond Jo Railroad.

This man, who became a great American industrialist, was born in New York State in 1819. He entered commercial life at the age of 17 by buying a few cattle and, after having them fattened and butchered, peddled the meat. He taught school a short time, then purchased a flour mill. He traded the mill for a tannery, which he moved to Chicago in 1856. By 1862, Reynolds had four boats on the Mississippi river collecting hides and grain at all ports between St. Paul and St. Louis.

The trademark stamped on his merchandise was a diamond-shaped figure in which was the word, "Jo." Like his railroad in Arkansas, his boats took the name of the "Diamond Jo Line."

By 1880, Reynolds had a passenger boat line on the Mississippi. The fine stern-wheel packet, Mary Morton, named for his wife, was launched that year. It was the first of the elaborately appointed passenger boats which later made his name synonymous with luxury.

The equipment of the railroad was the finest to be had and as long as Diamond Jo lived, the system was kept in perfect condition. At first the rate was 10 cents a mile, but even $2.50 for the 25 miles seemed low compared with the horse-drawn stage coach fare of $6. Later, the railroad fare was reduced. Many persons, then famous or later attaining fame, journeyed over the little railroad, including Admiral George Dewey, Charles A. Dana, Gen. John H. Logan, James G. Baline, Admiral Bob Evans, Billy Sunday, Emma Abbot, and her company, John L. Sullivan and his followers, James J. Corbett and Jake Kilrain.

The Rev. Sam Jones rested in Hot Springs between his revival meeting and the families of Gould, Pullman and Armour — all friends of Diamond Jo — often travelled his line.

In later years, Reynolds became interested in copper-mining in Arizona and from it amassed a fortune estimated at $12,000,000. He died in 1891, and his widow inherited the Diamond Jo Railroad and continued its operation until her death in 1895.

Now that school is out and grades are in, a compliment is in order for Jack T. Hughes, curator of paleontology of Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum and instructor of geology at West Texas State College. More instructors like Jack Hughes would certainly help raise the standard of learning in today's colleges.

One of the subjects that has been discussed about the square during the past few weeks is the need for a new jail for Canyon. Even a prisoner needs a bath every now and then but if one of the prisoners of the local calaboose takes one some member of the sheriff's office must take him to Amarillo or some other place. Then, too, there are no facilities here for women prisoners and as distasteful as it sounds, every now and then a woman has to be locked up. That's about all there is to the subject at the time being but that's enough for most people to make a decision in favor of a new jail.

Did you notice last Wednesday the weatherman said there was no moisture in sight but at least we would get to look at some clouds. It was really a novel experience too because most people in these parts had not seen a cloud for such a long time it was hard to recognize one. But we must have faith and remember the old saying, "When it rains it pours," someone once said.

L. S. Johnston, Randall County Sheriff, has a wonderful philosophy of life. He thinks antagonistic people should learn to be a little more tolerant of others' shortcomings. He points out that you have to live with people so why not make life more pleasant by trying to get along with them. The more you think about that the more meaning it has.

Someone has suggested that we start a "Little Birdie Told Me" department in the column. Such a department might be all right but then again it might not. First, we need a birdie to tell us things. We might line up Charlie Donnell to report various incidents which occur at the drive-in theatre but then again this might hurt Charlie's business, so we'll have to rule out that.

Mrs. Rice or Gerry or Betty might let us in on what happens in the back booths of the Canyon Drug. But then again it might get out who is doing the undercover work and no one would sit in the back booths. There is also another angle, what if someone caught Birdie doing something. Such things have been known to happen, so, in view of all these things, it might be concluded that we'll have no "Birdie" department, at least for a long time to come.

We have a sincere apology to make concerning a story which appeared in last week's paper. It was the one about the VFW grounds the Sunday before. Tommy Hunter was one of the principal figures working that day and his name failed to get into the story. It was certainly not deliberately done and we apologize to Tommy for allowing the story to get by without giving him credit for his labors that day.

Remember the additional prizes at the drawing Saturday. It promises to be a real thriller and everyone should be present to see who the two lucky winners of the $100 prizes will be. The Chamber of Commerce got its retail merchants committee together to decide what to do and that is what they came up with. Many people were out of town Saturday and most of the business firms were closed so it would have been difficult to get a winner in the drawing.

If you haven't taken note of "how time flies," stop for a moment and reflect, we're rapidly approaching the half-way mark in 1953.

Bride-Elect Honored With Two Showers

On Saturday evening the home of Mrs. E. T. Cummings, 1301 Fifth Avenue, was the scene of a miscellaneous shower honoring Miss Sherma Dixon, bride-elect of Malcolm Gunter.

Hostesses with Mrs. Cummings were Mrs. Ruth A. Hill, Mrs. Ralph Ruthart, Mrs. Walter Graham, Mrs. Stacy Howell, Mrs. Ray McReynolds, Mrs. P. L. Pitts, Mrs. Travis Payne, Sr., and Mrs. Harley Burrus. Centerpiece of the tea table was large yellow shag daisies and blue net umbrellas. Favors were small blue and yellow umbrellas inscribed with the names of the betrothed pair.

Approximately 98 guests called or sent gifts.

On Saturday, May 23, Misses Teddie Howell, Nelda Ruthart, Jan Waldrop, Rowena Funston, Ruby Lee Voorhees, and Mrs. Dorothy Patterson were hostesses for a personal shower in the James Funston home, 911 Sixth, to honor Miss Dixon.

Centerpiece for the serving table was a miniature bride and groom and yellow candles.

Approximately 25 guests called. This story is being rerun with deepest apologies from the society editor to all parties considered for an unpardonable mix-up resulting from incomplete information having been received at desk.

Lutheran Church Will Dedicate Building Sunday

St. Paul's Lutheran Church will dedicate its house of worship on Sunday, June 7, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The church is located at 1700 3rd Avenue.

Dedicatory address will be given by Rev. H. F. Peiman of Borger. Theme of his sermon will be "We Dedicate This House to The Glory of God." Rev. Erich Knippa, new minister of the church, will serve as liturgist for the occasion.

Lutherans of our city began public worship services on the evening of December 7, 1952. First worship services were conducted in the First Christian Church.

They achieved a standing as an official organization on January 14 of this year. Shortly thereafter they purchased the former Church of Christ building where they are now holding regular services and various organizational meetings.

A large outside attendance, especially from the other Lutheran churches in this area, is anticipated at the dedication service. St. Paul's Lutheran Church cordially invites the public to its dedication.

Mrs. Joe Findley Honored With Tea

All Saints Episcopal Guild entertained on Wednesday evening, May 27, to honor Mrs. Joe Findley who was to leave the following day for New York City where she and Mrs. Findley were to board a transatlantic plane for London in time for the Coronation pageantry.

As guests arrived in the home of Mrs. Warren Parker, they were served Boston coolers and Mrs. Findley was presented with a gift.

Informal talk was the entertainment of the evening. Of particular interest were stories told by Mrs. James Colombo who was an English war bride. She gave picturesque descriptions of London and surrounding area, and related the religious symbols of the coronation. These religious rites are the overpowering emotions of the English people in relation to their coronations.

Later in the evening coffee and delicious home made cookies were served and all wished "God's speed" to the Findleys.

Larry Ogle Is Burned Severely

Larry Ogle, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ogle, was severely burned the early part of the week in a mishap which occurred at the J. B. Hickman home. The 7-year-old redheaded youngster suffered third degree burns over 60 per cent of his body and is in critical condition at the hospital.

The Ogle boy and the Hickman boy dumped some trash in the large tank used for that purpose. They accidentally dropped the trash basket in the fire and the Ogle child entered the tank to retrieve it and was caught by the flames inside. Mrs. Hickman was summoned and she grabbed hold of the boy's hand and pulled him out of the blaze.

The small victim was rushed to Neblett Hospital where he received emergency treatment. He remained in critical condition this morning. This was the second mishap for the Ogle family in the last two months. Their home was recently destroyed by fire and they have been trying to rebuild their home. Their many friends have aided the family with contributions of clothing and money.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Phillips of Darrouzett spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. R. D. Lowry. They attended chapel at Boy's Ranch Sunday.

COLOR TV

Color television is ready for commercial use and should be made available to the public "within another year," according to Congressman J. Arthur Younger, Republican of California, a member of the Commerce Committee of Congress which recently conducted an investigation to determine why color TV had not been put on the market.

PROFITS

The Federal Communications Commission reports that the nation's radio and television stations and networks did an $809,400,000 business last year, 8 per cent higher than in 1951. The combined AM-FM-TV broadcasting industry profit, before Federal taxes, was estimated at $117,100,000, was estimated at $117,100,000, an increase of 18.2 per cent over 1951.

BABY DROWNS IN SINK

Baltimore, Md. — The 4-week-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Whitehill, was pronounced dead after the baby's mother fainted while giving her a bath in the kitchen sink.

UNUSED FUNDS

The Government had more than $139,000,000,000 in unspent appropriations as of January 31st, according to a Senate-House committee. Of this, $82,400,000,000 was available for military spending and $13,300,000,000 for foreign aid. Besides the military and foreign aid balances, unspent appropriations included: Atomic energy, $4,500,000,000; Department of Agriculture, $6,700,000,000 and Government housing agencies $5,200,000,000.

John Adams was the first Harvard graduate to become U. S. president.

BUDGET CUTS

Budget-cutters were recently informed by the House Appropriations Committee that the committee could trim only 3.5 per cent from the 1954 funds for the Treasury and Post Office departments. This was the smallest percentage reduction made by the committee on any appropriation bill sent to the House floor this year. The Treasury department would receive $611,895,000 and the Post Office $2,832,250,000 under the bill.

FOREIGN AID

President Eisenhower has asked Congress for $5,828,000,000 for foreign aid. This total is $1,771,000,000 less than former President Truman had estimated as necessary for this program.

The pessimist fearfully asks, "Is there any milk in the pitcher?" The optimist confidently says, "Please pass the cream."

WRONG HOUSE RE-ROOFED

Chicago, Ill. — Workmen were putting the finishing touches on a new roof on a house at 1415 N. Paulina street, when Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kniebusch returned home and asked, "How come?" The embarrassed foreman pulled out his work order and found that the re-roofing job was for a house at 1514 N. Paulina. The Kniebuschs insisted they preferred their old blue roof to the new green one and wouldn't pay. Their attorney told them the new roof cannot be removed by the company.

NOT SATISFIED

Denver, Colo. — A man, armed with a pistol, entered a local florist's shop, took a look inside the cash register, muttered, "This isn't enough" and disgustedly walked out.

World merchant fleet added 400 ships in 1952.

FOOD PRICES

Retail food costs dropped to the lowest level since December, 1950, largely reflecting lower farm prices according to an Agriculture Department report issued during the first weeks of May. A fixed quantity of food that cost an average of $735 in 1952 could be bought for $701 last month, but would have cost $755 in July of last year.

WRONG PLACE

Fayetteville, Ga. — Four Negroes were recently arrested and charged with operating three 1,000-gallon stills on — of all places — the farm of State Revenue Commissioner Charlie Redwine, chief liquor law enforcement officer for Georgia.

TO BE EXPECTED

"That sailor I was with last night sure was a fast worker." "What do you expect of a fleet man?"

SALARY BOOST

While many Congressmen think the proposed $10,000 salary boost for members of Congress is justified, most of them admit that, in view of the economy-minded Administration in power, "it hasn't got a chance now." The bill, recently approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee, would give senators and representatives a $25,000 annual salary. They now get $12,500 and a $2,500 expense allowance, which are lumped together as $15,000 of taxable compensation. Up to $3,000 may be deducted for income tax purposes as Washington living expenses.

CONDORS DYING OUT

San Diego, Cal. — The last of North America's greatest birds, the California condors, are reported to be dying out from slow starvation. Lewis Wayne Walker, a naturalist, declared their only hope of survival was in captivity or by artificial feeding in their 235,000-acre preserve in the mountains north of Los Angeles. Condors, despite their great size, do not kill and in natural state must depend for food upon carrion, left by animals of prey or hunters.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

The Tax Situation

The recent speech by President Eisenhower which definitely spelled out that the administration would not advocate or support tax reduction at this time has caused much discussion on Capitol Hill, putting it mildly. These discussions sometimes reach almost to the point of white heat.

Much pressure is being exerted on the congressional advocates of tax reduction. What effect this pressure will have is difficult to tell. It does not presently appear that the tax cut advocates will capitulate. However, the impact of Eisenhower's speech will have a telling effect.

The administration is in this dilemma. Until recently it has been assumed by all that the excess profits tax would be allowed to die and that Congress would take no affirmative action to extend it. This tax will expire by its own terms as of June 30th unless Congress does take affirmative action to extend it.

The 1951 ten per cent increase in the individual income taxes will expire by its own terms on January 1, 1954. Chairman Reed of the House tax-writing committee introduced H. R. 1, which would move the expiration date backwards from January 1, 1954, to July 1, 1953, on this particular tax.

This was done because Chairman Reed assumed that the excess profits tax would be allowed to die, as people had been led to believe, and he felt that it was only fair to the individual income taxpayer that the additional tax should expire at the same time that the corporate excess profits tax expired.

If the excess profits tax is allowed to expire on June 30th, then the Reed bill will create a dark cloud on the political horizon. Unless it is passed by the Congress, the administration evidently feels that it would be charged with giving relief to corporations but none to the individual income taxpayer. Therefore, if the excess profits tax is allowed to die, you can look for the Reed bill to pass.

The excess profits tax has been long condemned as a confiscatory, discriminatory and vicious tax that actually penalizes the small businessmen and prevents the growth or expansion of new and small businesses.

It is expected that the administration will come forward with an overall tax bill. According to the President, this will not be until January, 1954. Some here think that it will come much earlier than that, perhaps in the fall or before, if Congress stays in session. However, to date there has been very little information as to what the administration wants in such a bill.

Some think that a general sales tax on the federal level will be advocated to take the place of such taxes as the excess profits tax and many excise taxes that will expire on April 1, 1954. It is also anticipated that the national income will drop measurably. This would mean that the expected revenue from present tax laws will decrease accordingly. This in turn means that the budget will be thrown further out of balance. Many here expect a deficit for fiscal year

CITATION BY PUBLICATION
THE STATE OF TEXAS
TO: CONKLIN R. COONS Defendant, Greeting:

You are hereby commanded to appear by a written answer before the Honorable 47th District Court in and for Randall County at the Court House thereof, in Canyon, Texas, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 6th day of July A. D. 1953, then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 23rd day of May A. D. 1953, in this cause, numbered on the docket of said court and styled Farah LaJeanne Coons Plaintiff, vs. Conklin R. Coons Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit: A suit for divorce on grounds of cruel treatment, which was of such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable.

As is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit. The officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Canyon, Texas, this 23rd day of May A. D. 1953.

Attest:
ETHEL MULLINS, Clerk,
47th District Court in and for Randall County, Texas

(Seal)

1954 of approximately 11 billion dollars.

Frankly, the tax picture, insofar as tax relief for the individual taxpayer is concerned, is not good. I have not changed my position concerning relief for the American taxpayer. It is my opinion that the lessening of the present tax impositions upon the individual and small businesses will result in stimulation that will return more revenue for balancing the budget. It will also serve to guard against the operation of the law of diminishing returns, which is affecting the economy right now.

Investigations

The National Council of Churches of Christ in the United States, according to reports here, has created an investigating committee of their own to investigate the investigating committees of Congress that have indicated their intentions to investigate the churches. It looks like the country will not run short of investigations.

Corruption

It appears that there are people in all parties who think that public offices should be sold to the highest bidder.

A grand jury in Georgia has recently indicted several men for attempted federal job selling under the new administration. Arrests have also been made in South Carolina on the same charges. High officials in the new administration have unqualifiedly stated that such culprits will be prosecuted and punished to the fullest extent of the law.

Congress is keeping a wary eye on such practices and will expect the law to take its course in due order. Political pork-barrelism is no less dangerous today than it was a hundred years ago, and the quicker we get rid of it, the better off the taxpayer will be.

MIRACLE SAVES 3

Sargent, Nebr. — Three men, in the tail section of a B-29 that crashed in rugged Nebraska cattle country, were miraculously alive and able to tell about the crash that took the lives of nine others in the plane. Two of the three were unhurt and the third had only a broken jaw.

7 Years—6 Times More Rural Telephones

THIS SCENE HAS BEEN REPEATED many times in recent years, as telephone people worked to extend service to the state's farming areas. In just seven years, the number of Southwestern Bell rural telephones in Texas has increased six times. And we're continuing to push more lines out into rural areas every month. In 1953 we hope to be able to spend more than $4½ million on this type of construction alone. SOUTHWESTERN BELL . . . A TEAM OF 28,000 TEXANS . . . PARTNERS IN TEXAS' PROGRESS.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

Democrats in Congress are chuckling as a result of President Eisenhower's plan to put off tax cuts. The Democrats' story is that they voted tax cuts which the Republicans—who promised to make cuts—now propose to postpone or block.

Republican leaders in Congress, as a lure for votes to continue the excess-profits tax on business, hold out the promise of delay in raising the payroll tax from the present 1.5 per cent to 2 per cent each on employer and worker.

Mr. Eisenhower is reported to be showing some of the same kind of loyalty to his Cabinet officers that Mr. Truman developed. The more the President sees references to possible changes in his Cabinet, the more determined he becomes to avoid change that would back up the predictions.

Senator William F. Knowland, of California, is getting more and more mention among Republican Senators as a probable nominee for the Presidency in 1956 if President Eisenhower should resist pressure on him to run again. The California Senator, coming from a highly strategic State, is attracting attention as a Senate leader.

Richard Nixon, Vice President, is not too happy in the role of forced anonymity that is the lot of Vice Presidents. Mr. Nixon had hoped to be given more jobs to do than the White House is giving him.

In spite of all the talk, the Air Force and Navy are working more closely together, with less rivalry, than at any time in the past. Admiral Arthur Radford, to be Chairman of the Joint Chiefs, and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, new Air Force Chief of Staff, see almost eye to eye on the role of functions of air power.

Charles E. Bohlen, U. S. Ambassador to Russia, reports that there is increasing evidence of a conflict inside the Kremlin over the question of holding a top-level conference with the Allies at this time. One group appears to favor joint talks, while the opposing group leans to the Eisenhower approach of negotiating one issue at a time.

President Eisenhower put his foot down on a proposal from the military command in the Far East that a major offensive be mounted against the Chinese Communists as a means of forcing a decision on truce.

After any truce in Korea, ammunition supplies will be cut off from South Korean troops as a means of restraining them from independent action. Syngman Rhee, President of Korea, is wholly dependent upon U. S. for ammunition to supply his newly expanded Army.

Winston Churchill is described as "thrilled" by the midnight telephone talks he has been having with President Eisenhower. Sir Winston feels that he is bringing Eisenhower around to his way of thinking about peace with Russia.

John Foster Dulles, U. S. Secretary of State, carried out top-level exchanges with the leaders of Communist China, with India's Nehru as the intermediary. Mr. Dulles, in New Delhi, had a key role in latest truce exchanges.

Mr. Dulles skipped Iran on his round-the-world trip for the simple reason that he had nothing to talk about with Premier Mohammed Mossadegh. The issue in Iran now is down to the question of payment for British property that is nationalized, and U. S. cannot agree to any principle of nonpayment without jeopardizing its own investments.

Latin Americans are making it plain that they think the President's brother Milton is being sent on a quick visit to their part of the world as a way to get their minds off the lack of attention paid to Western Hemisphere affairs by Washington. The official feeling is that, if the United States were interested, it could at least send Secretary Dulles for a state visit.

FAMILIAR STORY, NEW LOCALE
Among the matters considered by the Nantucket selectmen last week was the purchase of oyster seed on the Vineyard, and it was voted to buy twenty bushels at $4 a bushel.

First Baptist Church To Begin Vacation Bible School Monday

Annual Vacation Bible School of the First Baptist Church will open next Monday morning at 8:30 and will continue for two weeks. Sessions will last for three hours each day — 8:30 to 11:30.

There will be six departments and each department will be under the immediate direction of a superintendent. Mrs. Dennis Lyle will be the superintendent of the department for children two years of age. Another nursery department for three-year-olds will be under the direction of Mrs. Ray Metcalf.

Children under four and five years of age will be lead by Mrs. Jack Grundy. Mrs. Clark Harvey will direct primary (6-7-8) age pupils. Mrs. R. A. Smith will be superintendent of juniors (9-10-11-12) and the teenage department will be supervised by Mrs. Raymond Raillard.

Each day's program will consist of Bible, character, and mission stories, music, recreation, hand work, and refreshments.

There is no admission or enrollment fee but an offering at the commencement program Friday, June 19, will be used to help defray the cost of the school.

Non-Baptist children are welcome to enroll as long as facilities last.

COOKS 100th BIRTHDAY MEAL

Scout Activities Set For Summer

Boy Scouts of Troop 66 are starting vacation time with a large number of activities. Early this week the troop announced that summer camp at Camp Don Harrington had been changed from June 7-13 to June 14-20.

Scouts of Troop 66 will also play the Silverton junior baseball team here on the baseball diamond south of town Saturday. Game time has been set at 5:30 p. m. and everyone is invited to attend.

The Scout baseball team lost a one-sided match two weeks ago to a team ranked one of the best in this section. All boys who are Cub Scouts and who really want to play baseball are invited to workout with the team on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Friday evenings, beginning at 6:30.

Troop 66 also re-registered last week. Any boy who is interested in joining the troop should attend three consecutive meetings and bring his parents to at least one of the meetings. After he has passed his tenderfoot tests he will be registered with the troop.

WHEELCHAIR ROMANCE

Chicago. — Two wheelchair patients, each minus a right leg, met as they traveled hospital corridors in wheelchairs. Each lost a leg in automobile accidents and, being veterans of the armed services, they entered the Veterans Administration Hospital in suburban Hines. The couple — Miss Inez B. Johnson, who served in the WAF's during World War II, and Forrest R. Fie, an Army veteran — were married in the hospital chapel.

FATHER-TRAINED BOY KILLS 2

Newark, N. J. — Michael Monahan, a hard-faced chain-smoking 15-year-old boy, confessed to the fatal shooting of a bartender and a patron in March in a $53 holdup in Elizabeth, N. J. The admission followed stories of how he committed about 150 robberies on orders of his ex-convict father, Eugene Monahan, 44. He testified he was beaten by his father if he did not comply with his father's orders.

Those making the trip were Roy Hunter, James Young, Alan Hanks, Craig Hunter, Leonard Miller, Gary Shepherd, DeWayne Pettit, Joe Bailey, Donnie Ford, Mike Hood, Jesse Ogle, Mac Boswell, Buzzie Barnhill, Gary Humphries, and Eddie Pettit.

The boys were driven down by Frank Barnhill, J. A. Young, and Elwood Shero. They were also accompanied by Scoutmaster Edd Pettit.

Alan Hanks won a one-man cook kit for being the outstanding fisherman.

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower, in approving cuts in military spending, is betting that tensions in the world will ease, not increase, over the years just ahead.

Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense, is setting something of an endurance record for standing up to political pressures in defense spending. It has been almost three months since an important Republican Senator promised his constituents that he would have approval of a big project for his State within one week. The project still is not approved.

The view of White House advisers on the business outlook is that the present boom is reaching for its top right now and will level off for a time before wearing out. There is no present concern about any setback.

Richard Nixon, Vice President, is being swamped with callers who can't be given a place on the White House calendar of visitors and who then turn to the Vice President as one with close White House ties. Mr. Nixon is having to make appointments as much as a month in advance.

Sherman Adams, chief of staff to the President, is planning a rather extended trip in Europe. There is some suggestion that this period will be used to smooth some ruffled feelings of Republican politicians who have had a rather rough time with the White House staff.

Mr. Eisenhower refuses to be concerned by the evidence of slow motion on the part of a Republican Congress. The President feels that the country can stand relief from a period of high-pressure Government, driving constantly to bring about big changes.

Senator Robert Taft is putting Western European nations on notice that there may be a limit to the heel dragging this country will put up with before considering alternatives to the present policy of handouts. There is a hint that Congress figures Europe could do more to help itself.

Aides of John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, are "talking down" the importance of the coming Bermuda meeting between President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Churchill and the Premier of France. It seems that Bermuda is designed as a delaying action to keep Mr. Churchill from any hasty journey to Moscow.

American military commanders in Korea are not at all happy about having India's Nehru, who contributed nothing to the war in Korea, actually fix the terms for a military truce. U. S. commanders in past wars have been permitted to fix the terms on the basis of military accomplishment.

Georgi Malenkov, Russia's new No. 1 man, is getting kicks from the satellites in Europe about Russia's "China first" program. The European satellites complain that they are being milked to help the Chinese when the satellites need help themselves.

Some important French politicians are toying with the idea of dealing directly with Russia in the event the United States places its influence on the side of re-arming Germany for membership in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. The French idea is to keep the Germans disarmed.

Dwight Eisenhower is becoming increasingly concerned by the evidence of chronic political weakness in France. Questions are being raised concerning defenses of Europe that rest upon a French Government that periodically is headless.

High military officials are explaining to questioners that the French in Indochina are no more interested in winning their war against Communist forces than United Nations forces were interested in winning the Korean war. It is pointed out that French forces have not taken opportunities to destroy Communist armies.

R. A. Butler, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, is making a highly favorable impression on the top men in the Eisenhower Administration. The tendency is to look upon him as the strong man of the British Government.

VA Cuts

Many Texas ex-servicemen are writing me to protest the proposed cut in appropriations for the Veterans Administration. The President's budget calls for a reduction of over $275,000,000 in VA appropriations.

Veterans hospitals even now are having to let beds stand unused because of lack of funds. Congressman Olin Teague of College Station has compiled figures showing that the 38 VA hospitals in the country are financially unable to use 2,393 of their beds. And 24,834 veterans approved for admission to VA hospitals can't get in because no beds are available. The hospital at Houston has 252 unused beds, that at McKinney 26.

I do not see how anybody can justify neglect of our ex-servicemen.

Defense

Can we get more defense for less money? Will 120 air wings give us more defense than 143 wings? Secretary of Defense Wilson says so, in defending the proposed cut of over five billion dollars in Air Force appropriations.

Some of us are going to examine the reductions very carefully.

What's Ahead?

Proposals have been made to increase interest rates charged the REA co-operatives on Government loans.

Chances of extending excess profits tax beyond June 30, as requested by the President, look slimmer every day.

Some of Texas' surplus wheat will be shipped to Pakistan if Congress approves the President's proposal to lend that country a million bushels, payment to be made later.

Expect the doctors' draft law to be extended, with some easing up on those who have had as much as 12 months of military service.

Majors Field near Greenville and Galveston Air Force Base are victims of the policy of cutting down the Air Force.

Bricker Amendment

I have as yet taken no definite stand on the Bricker Amendment. I support its aims and principles, as they are generally understood. The amendment is now being revised in Committee. It is not yet clear what the amendment's final form will be.

W. T. Athletes Honored Thurs.

Robert Whelchel and Troy Burrus were winners of the J. W. Kleinschmidt trophies as most valuable football and basketball player, respectively, at West Texas State for the 1952-53 seasons.

Presentation was made Thursday night by Kleinschmidt at a special supper in the athletic cafeteria.

Whelchel, big redheaded bull-back from Claude, was the choice of the secret committee for the football honor. Last season as a sophomore, Whelchel piled up 448 yards rushing, was the Herd's top pass receiver and was the number one defensive man whenever Coach Frank Kimbrough could risk using him.

The 185-pound, 6-footer will have two more years in which to roam the Buff gridiron. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whelchel of Claude. Wheeler is an agriculture major.

Burrus, towering 6-7 junior from Canyon, received the nod as the school's most valuable basketball player. Big Troy averaged 21.3 points per game in 21 outings this year as he posted his 1000th collegiate point. In the many honors heaped on him this year, Troy was named captain of the All-Border Conference team and was named to the NAIA second team All-American list.

Troy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradley Burrus of Canyon. He is a physical education major.

NO BALANCED BUDGET

The Eisenhower Administration has come to the reluctant conclusion that there is no hope of balancing the Federal budget in the new fiscal year which begins on July 1. Expenditures for national defense and for foreign military and economic aid are the key factors which prevent a balanced budget this year.

Read Directions on Bottles Before Spray

With spring house-cleaning and the anti-moth battle under way, housewives all over Texas have been using insecticide sprays. Because most of these are poisonous and some are inflammable, special precautions noted on the labels should be observed, says Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Common sense safety rules include protection of food, dishes, silverware and cooking utensils from moth, mosquito or fly sprays. If you spill concentrated insecticide solutions on yourself, wash off immediately with soap and water.

Don't expose yourself or members of your family unnecessarily to insecticide dust or spray mists. Provide extra ventilation by opening doors and windows when extensive jobs are being done.

Care should be taken not to spray liquid insecticides into electrical outlets or on exposed electrical connections because of danger of short circuits. Don't apply oil-base sprays near fire, flame or sparks and don't smoke while applying them.

Special precautions should be taken to store insecticides where children will not be able to reach them. Never put into a kitchen cupboard where they might be mistaken for food.

Teachers Offer To Compromise On Salary Bill

AUSTIN: Officials of the Texas State Teachers Association said today administration leaders had consistently refused to consider any reasonable solution to the teacher pay problem and had insisted on increasing local property taxes to finance any raise.

TSTA officials advised the organization's 53,000 members that no real compromise was ever offered by those opposing the $600 teacher pay raise bill. President R. L. (Bob) Proffer of Denton, Executive Secretary Charles H. Tennyson of Austin and H. W. Stilwell of Texarkana, chairman of the TSTA legislative committee, also outlined several compromise overtures made by supporters of the $600 bill.

They noted that the Legislature apparently felt the $600 recommendation made by TSTA a reasonable figure because both the House and Senate passed the $600 bill, Senate Bill 24, by lop-sided majorities. Many administration leaders voted for the bill but refused to raise taxes to finance it.

"Soon after Senate Bill 24 passed the House," they said, "it became obvious that administration forces in the legislature would not permit passage of a tax bill which would raise enough money to finance Senate Bill 24, thereby making the legislative act a futile and useless one. We immediately contacted administration leaders in the house and senate to see if something could be done. These conferences were futile."

Proffer said he had called on Gov. Allan Shivers on May 14, in the hope that some solution might be found, but that the "Governor flatly refused to cooperate."

The TSTA leaders pointed out that they opposed the so-called Kilgore bill, which would have given teachers a $306 raise if and when the natural gas tax is upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court, because it would have increased local property taxes and would have eliminated some of the services under the Gilmer-Aiken program.

Administration leaders flatly refused to support any pay raise measure which did not include a provision to increase local property taxes. They also insisted on eliminating state financial aid for supervisors and counsellors. An attempt by House sponsors of the $600 bill to take those features out of the Kilgore bill was rejected.

"TSTA should not be and has not been in the position of being willing to cripple or sacrifice its school program for the conditional promise of a small salary increase," the organization's members were told, "when the principles involved were so far-reaching."

House sponsors also offered administration forces another compromise which was rejected. It would have given teachers a $306 raise Sept. 1, 1953, plus an additional $90 on Sept. 1, 1954. It also would have put a dedication tax on natural gas reserves to pay for the raise and the tax would have become inoperative if the Supreme Court upheld the gas gathering tax. Governor Shivers, although he fought the gathering tax and favored this type in 1951, refused in 1953 to consider this tax, which was designed to collect a great deal of revenue from out-of-state consumers of Texas gas. Administration leaders again insisted on local property tax increase instead of a tax on long-line natural gas pipelines.

The TSTA spokesmen said their cause is not lost because there will be another session of the Legislature. They mentioned the possibility of a special session, which they noted the governor can call "for the express purpose of solving this vital problem at any time he desires."

"We stand ready, now as in the past, to discuss this problem at any time with the governor or members of the Legislature and to help in every way possible to try to solve it," they added.

GOVERNMENT JOBS

The Census Bureau has reported that some 7,105,000 persons were on Federal, state or local government payrolls last October—one out of every 22 persons in the United States. Contrary to what many think, the largest number of Government employees was the group working for local governments, including cities, counties, school districts, townships, and special districts. That total was 3,418,000. Next came the Federal Government civilian payroll, totaling 2,583,000. The states accounted for 1,103,000.

11 CARS WRECKED ON CURVE

Williamsport, Md. — Eleven cars were wrecked in ten days on a sharp turn in U. S. Highway 11, from Maryland into West Virginia. The chain of accidents began early the morning of April 26, when two cars smashed up, injuring four persons, one seriously. Most of the wrecks involve cars failing to make the nearly 90-degree turn and sliding off the highway.

The penny postcard isn't what it used to be, it seems. In the first place, it now costs 2 cents and, too, it has lost about half its former popularity with the public. At the old rate, sales over a long period averaged around 4,000,000. 000 cards a year. In the last full year at 1 cent, 4,193,748,200 cards were issued. In the last full year, cent and the last half, 2 cents, sales dropped off to a total of only 2,984,123,500.

HOUSING LOAN CONTROLS

FHA and VA loans on housing now may be made without the controls imposed by the Defense Production Act, according to FHA administrator, Albert M. Cole. This means: 1. FHA mortgages now may be made repayable in 25 or 30 years, instead of a maximum of 20 years, and, the four or five per cent minimum down payment requirements, depending on cost, for VA housing are abolished. Down payments will now be regulated by commercial requirements. VA mortgages may be made repayable in as much as 30 years.

WAGE RATES RISE

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced that average earnings rose 1 cent an hour to $1.75 between mid-February and mid-March, in the wake of the Government's abandoning of wage controls. Average hourly earnings were 10 cents higher in mid-March than a year earlier.

Childhood Diseases Are Deadly Enemies

Today's children on the average are larger and healthier, probably as the result of improved knowledge of nutrition and disease control. There are still fields to conquer in childhood diseases, however.

The control of four diseases formerly considered slaughterers of children — diphtheria, whooping cough, scarlet fever, and measles — are good examples of health advances. Through the development of effective vaccines and widespread education as to the value of immunization at the time of periodic health checkups, they have lost most of their terror.

A disease which has yielded to sanitation measures and treatment in most sections of the nation but which continues to be a leading health problem in the Southwest is diarrhea in infants. In 1949 the death rate in Texas children younger than 1 year old from diarrhea and enteritis (inflammation of the intestines) of 5.9 per 1,000 living births was exceeded in the United States only by New Mexico and Arizona. The national rate in that year was 1.6.

Since death rates from diarrhea are a fairly good indication of the sanitation of a community or a state, it's evident that Texas still has a long way to go. The condition spreads more rapidly among infants of families with low incomes, with a resulting higher death rate. Usually children who die with diarrhea are those who don't receive medical attention until too late. Therefore, the problem is not only to prevent epidemics but to see that infants are seen promptly by a doctor should they become ill. Without replacement of the body fluids and minerals lost through the intestines, a baby may lose four or five pounds within the first 24 hours.

Public health officers and private doctors are attacking the problem in a preventive way by teaching all who care for infants of the absolute necessity for cleanliness of food and feeding equipment. Health departments conduct clinics and hold infant care classes; they send nurses into homes to demonstrate correct ways to sterilize formulas, prepare foods, disinfect clothes and dishes of sick infants, and point out needed improvements in sanitation.

Doctors also are having to overcome the mistaken belief on the part of parents that it is all right to expose children right and left to the measles and mumps. Although the chances of catching these diseases before growing up is great, it may be extremely unwise to allow a very young or sickly child to come in contact with the diseases. Red measles (rubeola), sometimes called the "nine-day measles," is serious at any age and especially dangerous in infants and old people.

Physicians will go so far as to head off completely an attack of rubeola in a child just recovering from another illness. In one method they give by hypo gamma globulin, which is made from the liquid part of the blood. If the serum is given early enough after exposure, the child usually doesn't come down with red measles, but this kind of immunity is good only for about six weeks. Sometimes a smaller dose is given or the full dose is delayed so that a light case results, giving life-long immunity.

It is true that measles or mumps in adulthood can have uncomfortable, if not dangerous complications. German measles (rubella), a usually mild disease lasting about three days, occurring during the first three months of pregnancy can cause miscarriage, or if the baby lives, it may have defects of the eye, ear, heart, or teeth. For this reason some doctors make an exception to their rule of not exposing children to "catching" diseases and recommend that girls be allowed to take the German measles during childhood.

In men, mumps may affect the sex glands but sterility seldom results if patients follow their doctor's advice to stay in bed and receive treatment designed to avoid the complication.
